Red Alma Mater (For No One)

A summer - of beauty A home apart from all the cares and all the worries - our camp, Saginaw.

The fields - the river
 The pines atop the hills and land that's covered come and see - a carpet of green.

And in the air there's a spirit
 That helps us through our winter tears

We know our love last for years

This year - Soon gone Will linger on and on inside our hearts
 We know we'll soon be here again.

Red - Fight

We're the riders
 Rising up angry in the sky
 We're the riders
 Blazing the dust as we fly
 So the dragsters had better beware

The fight will soon be through And the riders will be on top in Red and Blue

We're the riders - and you can smell our tires burn We are victors, and this the dragsters soon will learn In every race throughout the land the dragsters will be beat.

'Cause the riders know they'll never face defeat.
 In this raging war both teams have fought so strong But ain't no one gonna hold us back for long.

RED FRIENDSHIP (to the tune of "Don't Sleep in the Subway")

The Red and the Blue fought a long Color War
 Now we think that it's time we stopped fighting Though we were apart - in this war - from the start There's no reason why we can't come together

Both teams know that they gave the fight their all But from the battle we've learned something more

That friendships we make at Saginaw Will last the whole Winter through That ties we form in the summer,
 Are strong enough to last Through fights and foolish Deeds till we're side by side again.

BLUE ALMA MATER
(to the tune of "If I fell")

In the springtime of the year Thoughts of Saginaw so dear We'll soon be there again Rolling meadows in the breeze Woods aglow with many trees
The people - our friends.

Saginaw, we'll never roam
We love you so
Such a lovely summer home
No words could ever say What I feel inside my heart for you

And I know we'll never part
When we leave We'll still hold you in our thoughts
A mem'ry golden Treasures of the past
Our days at Saginaw Live on throughout the years

Blue Friendship (Nowhere Man)

1970 - Saginaw
Two teams fought a color war Riders and Dragsters racing for the top

Both teams gave the fight their all Both teams tried to make the other fall
Now it's time to reunite us one again.

Red and Blue together
Red and Blue forever
Let's be friends
And promise we'll never fight anymore

Riders and Dragsters we once fought But you know it was all for nought Now it's over and we must join in harmony

Now it's over so let's all join in harmony

1970
Blue Fight (Love Potion # 9)

The dragsters rode into the town one day
And they decided they were here to stay The dragsters knew that they were tuff
Their cycles could soar
And when the riders called their bluff
We had a color war.

We had our dragsters spread out far and wide But at each battle we became one side
The unity and spirit never kept us alone
So everytime our cycles blazed
We came out number one.

We fought down on lower and gave it our best And then we put 'em on their guard so they could not rest

For every time we fought we really gave it our all So riders do beware of us
For you will fall.

We fought and fought until our tires wore and got off from our bikes and fought some more And now as we reach the last day of the fight
We know we'll win this afternoon.

We've surely earned the right
We've surely earned the right
We've surely earned the right.
